Business

- White Ribbon assembly February 28th.
- Update on new bills in the Legislative session that impact Community Councils by Nick Galieti
- Kimberly Marsden - Report on expenditures from last years council funds. Musical instruments for upper elementary, a music tutor, and tone bars for Montessori program.
- Instruments were used well and have engaged well at the upper elementary.
- Additional help with the music tutor was used well to give more time in the classroom with music instruction. Kimberly makes a request to continue funding a tutor to allow for that same impact on the students next year.
- Montessori tone bars were not purchased and essentially fell through the cracks.
- This additional time with the music instruction helps with movement and classroom behavior and mental development in the lower elementary.
- Discuss $5,700 math manipulative from prior year Land Trust proposal needs amendment to the plan.
- Nick Galieti makes motion to amend the plan to re-allocate $5,700 from math manipulative to the literacy program. Heidi Galieti seconds the motion. Motion passes unanimously.
- Nate Justis presents on Math intervention needs with context of the MAP testing that was completed previously. The data shows grade level results of the various students achievement.

- It appears that students tend to see their grades in high school as mattering more than middle school.
- Nick Galieti presents a “starting point” or early proposal for a land trust plan to give the rest of the council members an idea of what a plan could look like, and encourages them to come back next meeting with any changes, or suggested uses of council funds that can be discussed and voted on in the next council meeting.
- It was agreed upon that the council would make the proposal available on a google doc to allow for input and changes to all the council members that was shared and public.
